

I am very disturbed that we are in jeopardy of losing the benefits of the current "No Call List" that has been effect for the past few years in Wisconsin. This is a process that initially I wondered how something of this magnitude could be effective and then when I registered for the list, I experienced immediate results that proved to work in protecting me and my family, thus giving us - the consumers our freedom. Freedom from annoying phone calls that we don't want in the first place. The freedom to enjoy our family dinner without being bothered by annoying phone calls. The freedom to not receive a solicitor call after going to bed or awakened by them on a Saturday morn when just felt like sleeping in. The freedom to not have an unwanted call wake my child from a nap. The freedom to choose who we wish to buy from, not someone phoning to trick me into a purchase that I never really wanted. I have yet to make a purchase from a telemarketer that was worthy of the purchase. The few that I had fell for, I cancelled soonafter and that was not done with ease. I feel there should be a law disabling all telemarketers. why should they be given freedom to harrass us? we should have the freedom to disable them if we don't wish to be bothered by them. Please let us keep our No call list in tact, as is. If wish to alter it, offer this protection to others. If I cancel from a financial institution or some other business, most likely there is a reason and I do not wish to have someone phone me to win back my business. There is a 99% chance I want nothing to do with them and do not wish to ever hear from them again.
